"One thing is needful. — To "give style" to one's character—a great and rare art! It is practiced by those who survey all the strengths and weaknesses of their nature and then fit them into an artistic plan until every one of them appears as art and reason and even weaknesses delight the eye. Here a large mass of second nature has been added; there a piece of original nature has been removed—both times through long practice and daily work at it. Here the ugly that could not be removed is concealed; there it has been reinterpreted and made sublime. Much that is vague and resisted shaping has been saved and exploited for distant views; it is meant to beckon toward the far and immeasurable. In the end, when the work is finished, it becomes evident how the constraint of a single taste governed and formed everything large and small. Whether this taste was good or bad is less important than one might suppose, if only it was a single taste! . . . "

1 The Paragon

The "Paragon" refers to the ideal version of myself, embodying the skills, qualities, and characteristics I aspire to attain. The ultimate goal of all the succeeding sections in this document is to bring me as close as possible to the Paragon.

While the statements describing the Paragon are not strictly enforceable in the same way as the obligations in later sections, they serve as guiding principles to steer my character development and help navigate challenging life situations. Furthermore, the statements are not numbered to indicate priority but solely for ease of reference. The "I" in these statements refers to the Paragon, as opposed to my current self.

This section serves as a descriptive reference only until further notice.

1.1 Integrity and Discipline

1. I do not waste time.
   1.1. I place a meaningful purpose behind every action that requires one.
2. I am not addicted to anything involuntarily.
3. I do not depend on anyone in all major aspects of my life.
4. I deceive as little as possible.[1]
   4.1. I deceive myself as little as possible.
5. I can control or sublimate any drive or impulse.
   5.1. I am impervious to uncontrolled lust.

1.2 Resilience and Growth

1. I always persevere and progress, regardless of the severity of the challenges or setbacks encountered.
2. I am never the victim.
3. I commit fully to everything I choose to pursue seriously.
   3.1. I do not yield until the goal I have chosen to pursue is achieved.
4. I am well-read in a broad range of topics.
   4.1. I read and critically analyse multiple books every week.
      4.1.1. I retain the necessary information from all the books I read for the long term.
5. I am creative.

[1] A revised version of "I do not deceive" due to the "Nazis at the door" hypothetical.

1.3 Physicality

1. I am in excellent physical shape.

   1.1. I am stronger than the vast majority of the male population close to my age in terms of absolute physical strength.

      1.1.1. I have never used any performance-enhancing drugs.

   1.2. I have unyielding physical endurance.

2. I am highly proficient in at least one martial art.

1.4 Relationships

1. I stand up for myself and others when necessary.

2. I am in a relationship with a single woman whom I truly love.

   2.1. I have children.

3. I am able to support my friends and family financially, emotionally, and otherwise at all times.

1.5 Miscellaneous

1. I do not need the CCC to control my behaviour.

2 Preamble

"I", Akim [redacted], hereby commit to the following Cultivated Code of Conduct (hereinafter referred to as the "CCC"), and pledge my sincere intention to adhere to the principles, standards, and rules set forth herein.

I affirm my responsibility to uphold the standards and rules embodied in the CCC to the best of my ability, and to conduct myself in a manner consistent with these provisions. This strongly implies that deliberate circumvention of rules described hereinafter is strictly prohibited.

I recognise that the CCC is a living document, subject to change and growth as I see fit, and I pledge to regularly revisit, update and adapt these commitments according to my evolving principles and understanding.

The key words "MUST", "MUST NOT", "REQUIRED", "SHALL", "SHALL NOT", "SHOULD", "SHOULD NOT", "RECOMMENDED", "MAY", and "OPTIONAL" in this document are to be interpreted as described in RFC 2119.

I acknowledge that my failure to abide by the rules and standards described hereinafter MUST result in self-imposed penalties or actions, and I accept responsibility for these consequences.

3 Conduct Enforcement

3.1 Penalties

Utmost, conscientious adherence to the CCC is paramount. However, for all intents and purposes, some rules will inevitably be breached. Thus, one of the penalties described hereinafter MUST be imposed for every broken rule in accordance with specified breach degree (see Section 3.2).

Given that the default penalty demands physical exertion, its imposition may not always be feasible, for instance, in the event of an injury. Consequently, it is mandated to select the first practicable penalty from the following order of priority:

1. Burpees. 150 burpees of the proper form MUST be performed by no later than the end of the next "day", where a day is defined as the period of time from the morning awakening to falling asleep at night, unless otherwise stated.
2. Push-ups and squats. A total of 300 push-ups and squats of the proper form MUST be performed by no later than the end of the next day. Although the proportion of each exercise contributed to the total is not fixed, it is encouraged to aim for at least 40% of push-ups.

3. Video content consumption. No video content is allowed to be consumed in solitary setting for the entirety of the next day, with the exception of practical educational content. For more details on video content refer to Section 5.1.

When multiple penalties are incurred, either from a breach of specified degree or from violations of multiple rules, the maximum number of days permitted to address these penalties matches the number of incurred penalties.

If a penalty remains unfulfilled by the conclusion of the designated period, it MUST be augmented by an additional 50% of the base (the initially incurred) penalty, with one extra day allocated for completion.[2] This procedure recurs for each successive failure to meet the penalty requirements within the extended timeframe.

All penalties MUST be fulfilled within the allocated period. No exceptional circumstances apply. Furthermore, all provisions subject to exceptional circumstances MUST be logged (under Provisional Modifications or otherwise) in advance to avoid incurring a penalty.

3.2 Breach Degrees

Every rule in the CCC should explicitly specify a breach degree that determines the magnitude of penalty to be incurred in the case of a violation (see Section 3.1). Should it fail to be specified, the selection of a breach degree must be made at my discretion. There are a total of four breach degrees, outlined as follows:

1. First-degree breach is the most severe type of CCC violation, which in principle should never occur. It is not subject to Section 3.1 penalties due to its severity, and thus MUST incur an appropriate penalty determined at my discretion and potentially in consultation with trusted third parties. This category is typically associated with serious legal, moral, or otherwise significant violations.

2. Second-degree breach incurs a triple penalty. This category is typically associated with violations of obligations that carry moderate to severe consequences, as well as those breaches that may undermine the integrity of adherence to the CCC.

3. Third-degree breach incurs a double penalty. This category is typically associated with violations of obligations that may result in noticeable consequences, as well as those breaches that are expected to be fulfilled either weekly or on a less frequent basis.

[2] For example, should I fail to complete a base penalty of 900 (= 300 × 3) burpees within three days, the penalty increases by 450 burpees to a total of 1350 burpees, with an additional day for completion. If unmet again, the penalty rises by another 450 burpees to a total of 1800 burpees, now with a total of five days allocated for fulfillment.

4. Fourth-degree breach incurs a singular penalty. This category represents the least severe type of CCC violation, typically associated with minor incidents that have little to no consequences.

5. Fifth-degree breach incurs one-third of a penalty, except for non-physically exertive penalties, in which case it incurs a singular penalty. This category covers technical violations or minor slip-ups, such as slightly exceeding a set limit, like five minutes or a few units, depending on the context.

3.3 Operational States

The Operational States framework exists to preserve long-term adherence to the CCC during periods of adversity. The purpose of an Operational State is not to suspend standards, but to modify their application such that continuity of conduct remains possible under diminished circumstances.

The objective of the framework is graceful degradation rather than abandonment. During an Operational State, priority MUST be given to preserving identity, agency, and future recoverability over maximising performance, output, or optimisation.

Operational States act as overlays upon the baseline provisions of the CCC. Unless expressly modified by the Operational State Matrix, all provisions of the CCC remain in force.

3.3.1 General Principles

An Operational State MAY be activated, at an appropriate Level, whenever circumstances materially impair my ability to maintain ordinary compliance with the CCC.

Operational States MUST NOT be activated solely for convenience, procrastination, avoidance of obligations, or any other attempt to circumvent the intent of the CCC.

Every change of Operational State—whether activation, deactivation, or a change of Level—MUST be documented as a provisional modification in the Annex (Provisional Modifications), stating the Level entered and a brief explanation.

An Operational State MUST remain active only for as long as reasonably necessary. Its continued appropriateness SHOULD be reassessed regularly and in good faith.

The following principles remain in force regardless of Operational State:

1. Deliberate abandonment of the CCC is prohibited.

2. Adversity MUST NOT be used as a pretext for knowingly engaging in self-destructive conduct.

3. Adversity MUST NOT be used as a pretext for persistent degenerative leisure.

4. Some degree of intellectual, physical, and social continuity MUST be preserved whenever reasonably possible.
5. Recovery and eventual return to ordinary operation MUST remain the intended direction of conduct.

3.3.2 Levels

An Operational State is always active at one of the following three Levels, listed in ascending order of severity.

Level 1 — Strain
The purpose of Level 1 is sustainability.

Level 1 is intended for circumstances in which ordinary functioning remains possible but maintaining baseline standards would impose disproportionate strain.

Examples include elevated academic or professional workload, travel, moderate illness, temporary disruption of routine, moderate emotional distress, and similar circumstances.

Level 2 — Crisis
The purpose of Level 2 is continuity.

Level 2 is intended for circumstances in which compliance with multiple ordinary CCC obligations becomes significantly impaired and maintaining baseline standards would likely result in accumulating failures.

Examples include burnout, bereavement, serious illness or injury, major relationship disruption, severe overload, and similar circumstances.

Level 3 — Survival
The purpose of Level 3 is preservation.

Level 3 is intended for circumstances in which ordinary functioning becomes substantially impaired and the primary objective is to prevent behavioural, physical, social, or intellectual collapse.

Examples include severe illness, acute crisis, exceptional life disruption, or any comparable circumstance substantially impairing normal functioning.

3.3.3 Operational State Matrix

The Operational State Matrix defines the modifications to baseline CCC operation that apply at each Level.

Any obligation not explicitly modified by the matrix MUST continue to operate according to its ordinary requirements.

4 Health and Lifestyle

4.1 Physical Activity

The amount of physical activity is measured in "training sessions". The definition of a training session varies depending on the type, duration, and intensity of the physical activity undertaken, thus one training session may be equivalent to a moderately intense 45-minute workout at a conventional gym, as well as a moderately intense 90-minute exercise at a bouldering gym. Ultimately, the determination of what constitutes a training session is left to my discretion, guided by the specific context and my reasoned judgement.

The number of training sessions per calendar week MUST be greater or equal than four. However, this requirement MAY be waived under exceptional circumstances, such as events objectively preventing me from fulfilling the quota, including but not limited to physical incapacity due to illness or injury, and vital academic or work-related obligations. A third-degree breach.

4.2 Physiological Improvements

I MUST undergo a comprehensive blood panel at least once every calendar year. The exact set of markers tested is left to my discretion. A second-degree breach.

[3] Under Levels 2 and 3, the compounding augmentation for incomplete penalties (the additional 50% imposed per missed period; see Section 3.1) is suspended. Penalties are still separately incurred for distinct instances of breaches. The base penalty is reduced by 50%, and its completion MAY be deferred until the Operational State has concluded.

4.3 Diet

Every obligation in Section 4.3 falls under the third-degree breach unless stated otherwise.

The long-term dietary regimen MUST adhere to principles of healthfulness and balance. The dietary recommendations established by the NHS MAY be used as a reference.

The consumption of products high in unhealthy fats or added sugars must be minimised. Food sourced from major fast food chains, such as McDonald's, Burger King, KFC, and similar establishments, MUST NOT exceed two days per calendar week. The daily intake of added sugars MUST NOT, on average, exceed the recommendation of 30 grams as set forth by the NHS. These requirements, while binding, are subject to occasional exceptions, provided they are within reasonable limits.

4.4 Sleep Schedule

During active term time, the following is mandatory every day:

- Wake up the army way by 7:31 AM with the intention of performing the entire morning routine and having a full-fledged breakfast. I MUST NOT return to bed before having had breakfast.
- Be in bed for the night after completing the entire evening routine by 9:45 PM sharp. Note that the evening routine MUST include brushing teeth with a single-tuft toothbrush if it is available (which can also be used the next morning without penalty).
- The next 20 minutes are allocated for winding down, daily journaling, changing bedding (which is allowed to take a bit longer), etc.
- By 10:05 PM all activity must be ceased, with the exception of reading literature (see Section 6.2), engaging in structured philosophical activities (does not include writing poetry), or talking to my girlfriend.
- I MUST start falling asleep by no later than 11:10 PM sharp.

Outside of the active term time the sleep schedule MUST be determined within the first week after the term ends.

Daytime sleeping is strongly discouraged, except for nonconsecutive naps not exceeding 20 minutes each.

This obligation MAY be temporarily suspended in the event of exceptional circumstances. A fourth-degree breach.

4.5 Phone Screen Time

"Active screen time" is defined as the duration during which a device is used for tasks that necessitate direct input or continuous engagement from the user.

Active phone screen time MUST remain at or below six hours per day, unless I justifiably deem it necessary or appropriate to exceed this limitation. A fourth-degree breach.

5 Recreational Activities

5.1 Video Content Consumption

Every obligation in Section 5.1 falls under the fourth-degree breach.

Limitations on the time dedicated to consuming long-form video content in solitary setting differ in accordance with the type of content being watched:

1. Videos on the YouTube platform MUST NOT be consumed for more than 50 consecutive minutes, unless the video itself is longer then the limit. In this case, it SHOULD be re-categorised accordingly.
2. The number of episodes in a series that may be viewed consecutively is limited to four for episodes with a duration not exceeding 15 minutes, to three for episodes not exceeding 25 minutes, and to two for episodes not exceeding 50 minutes. Episodes lasting for 50 minutes or more MUST NOT be viewed for more than 90 consecutive minutes.
3. The viewing of cinematographic works exceeding 80 minutes in duration is permissible, so long as it does not serve as a means to procrastinate.
4. Practical educational content, including but not limited to video recordings of lectures and work-related tutorials, is exempt from any prescribed duration limitations.
5. Other types of long-form video content are to be subjected to time restrictions in line with the aforementioned limits at my discretion.

The aforementioned limits are reset following a period of abstention equal to the duration of a "viewing session". A viewing session is defined as a time period of consecutive long-form video content consumption followed by at least 10 minutes of abstention. Consuming such content between viewing sessions is prohibited. In the case of multiple types of content viewed in one session, the duration limit is left to be determined at my discretion.

Once viewing of short-form video content, such as YouTube Shorts or Instagram Reels, is initiated—with the sound muted or otherwise—an 11-minute consumption window begins. This window concludes after 11 minutes, regardless of the actual viewing time. Immediately following this period, a mandatory break of at least one hour is REQUIRED before any further consumption of such content is permitted. During this break, no viewing of short-form video content is allowed, ensuring a period of non-consumption to reset the viewing cycle. Note that when the sound is muted, viewing no more than five pieces of short-form video content (or posts on Instagram) at a time does not begin the consumption window or interrupt the break. A view counts if I look at a post for longer than three consecutive seconds. Furthermore, I am not allowed to spend more than roughly two hours on Instagram per day, regulated by the built-in feature.

The consumption of video content for entertainment purposes is prohibited following morning wakefulness before having a full-fledged breakfast.

All requirements in Section 5.1 MAY be temporarily suspended in the event of physical illness, serious injury, or circumstances in which the expected waiting time is two hours or more and it is unreasonably difficult to engage in productive activity (e.g., waiting for a flight at an airport).

5.2 [redacted]

[redacted]

5.3 Use and Acquisition of Recreational Drugs

The only recreational drugs permitted for consumption are explicitly restricted to alcohol, nicotine and caffeine. The consumption or possession of any other substances categorised as recreational drugs is strictly prohibited and is a first-degree breach.

5.3.1 Alcohol

The quantity of alcohol consumed per week MUST remain in accordance with the NHS recommendations, which, as of April 12, 2024, equates to 14 alcohol units[4] on a regular basis. This quantity MAY be occasionally exceeded within reasonable limits. A third-degree breach.

5.3.2 Nicotine

The purchase of cigarettes, e-cigarettes, or nicotine pouches for personal use is prohibited, with the exception of purchasing and using these products shortly before, after or with the intention of [redacted]. The use of any product obtained under this exception MUST be promptly discontinued thereafter, either by discarding the product or by storing it away. A second-degree breach.

The use of cigarettes or e-cigarettes without adhering to all of the following conditions constitutes a third-degree breach:

1. I am partaking in social interactions.
2. I have consumed no fewer than 2.5 units of alcohol, with the explicit stipulation that the alcohol was not consumed with the intention of enabling the use of cigarettes or e-cigarettes.
3. The cigarettes or e-cigarettes have been voluntarily donated by a third party.
4. I am not exceeding the consumption limit of nicotine-containing inhalant products, defined as three days within a calendar week.
5. I have not used cigarettes or e-cigarettes for three or more consecutive days.

The use of nicotine pouches voluntarily donated by a third party is permitted in moderate quantities.

The acquisition of other nicotine-containing products intended predominantly for aesthetic purposes, including but not limited to cigars and smoking pipes, is permitted for personal use. Such products must only be used occasionally and in moderation.

[4] For reference, one alcohol unit corresponds to a single small shot of spirit (25ml, ABV 40%), while a pint of higher-strength lager, beer, or cider (568ml, ABV 5.3%) amounts to approximately three alcohol units. The formula to calculate the number alcohol units is given by:

$$\text{Number of alcohol units} = \frac{\text{Volume in ml} \times \text{Alcohol content (ABV) in \%}}{1000}$$

6 Routine Obligations

6.1 Scheduling

I MUST schedule or preschedlue all work sessions for each day before having breakfast and I MUST strictly adhere to the schedule. A session may be rescheduled at any time before it starts or within the first 10% of its scheduled duration. However, if immediately before a session I am engaged in an activity that overruns and prevents me from rescheduling in time, this does not constitute a violation, and I MUST reschedule the session as soon as I become available. A fourth-degree breach.

6.2 Reading

Reading literature MUST be undertaken for no less than a total of one hour on a daily basis after 8 PM local time. In the event of exceptional circumstances, it remains strongly encouraged to uphold the daily reading habit; under such conditions, engaging in reading for any duration, even for as little as five minutes, is valued. The primary aim of this stipulation is to ensure daily consistency, prioritising regular engagement over the quantity of reading. Note that this type of reading does not contribute to meeting the daily working hours requirement from Section 6.3. A fourth-degree breach.

Alternatively, I can choose to engage in a structured philosophical inquiry under the same requirements as above or talk to my girlfriend. A fourth-degree breach.

Furthremore, after finishing a book, I am REQUIRED to write down at least three things that I got out of it and want to remember before starting to read the next book. A third-degree breach.

I MUST read all applicable books according to the "How to Read a Book" by Morimer J. Adler and Charles Van Doren guidelines. A third-degree breach.

6.3 Working Hours

"Work" is defined as any productive activity undertaken to achieve specific professional or structured educational objectives. This includes, but is not limited to, doing paid work, producing useful written output (inter alia, the CCC), engaging in active learning (such as reading textbooks, watching tutorials, attending university lectures, and similar activities) or professional communication.

Active term time is defined as the official University of Bath term time during which I am physically present in Bath or Didcot, UK, for the purpose of studying at the university or undertaking an industrial placement.

A minimum of six hours of work MUST be undertaken every day under regular circumstances. To take a day off, I MUST document it under Provisional Modifications by no later than the end of the next day. Should a persistent impediment arise, for instance an illness, the required number of working hours MAY be decreased to a reasonable level. Likewise, where the choice for the day is between socialisation and meeting the required number of working hours, I MAY reasonably decrease the latter at my discretion. The stipulation is active during active term time, however I must also choose whether it is active or not within one week of each transitionary period from one active term time to another. A third-degree breach.

Working time MUST be carried out and measured in the work sessions scheduled in accordance with Section 6.1. Each session is an interval of fully focused work that MUST NOT be interrupted: throughout a session I MUST NOT check my phone for more than several consecutive minutes or otherwise engage in any distraction. Only such uninterrupted, focused sessions count towards the working hours required above.

6.4 Leisure Constraints

This section is suspended until the requirements of Section 6.3 change and I deem it necessary to resume it.

Degenerative leisure refers to activities that simultaneously satisfy all of the following criteria:

1. They require minimal cognitive or physical effort to initiate and sustain;
2. They are primarily consumptive or passive rather than productive or skill-building;
3. They do not provide meaningful physical or mental recovery;
4. They have a tendency to extend beyond their initially intended duration without deliberate control.

Examples include, but are not limited to, using Instagram and similar apps for longer than the designated viewing session (as per Section 5.1), watching online video content without a predefined purpose or endpoint, taking unnecessary naps, purposelessly lying in bed for more than several minutes, and engaging in impulsive or unstructured digital entertainment.

For any day during which I have outstanding tasks that are reasonably actionable, I MUST NOT engage in degenerative leisure activities unless at least one of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) I have completed a meaningful portion of my planned work for the day;

(b) I have no clearly defined next action for any outstanding task;

(c) I am in a state of genuine fatigue or depletion such that rest would materially improve subsequent productivity.

Activities that are intentionally chosen, time-bounded, and demonstrably restorative or socially meaningful MAY be excluded from this category at my discretion, provided such classification is made in good faith and not used to circumvent the intent of this provision. For instance, walking, meditating, eating (with the exception of snacking), and other low-stimulation forms of rest do not fall under this restriction.

Engaging in degenerative leisure without satisfying at least one of the above conditions constitutes a fourth-degree breach.

6.5 Staying In Contact

I MUST either call my parents and sister, or talk to them in person, at least once every calendar week. A third-degree breach.

Furthemore, I MUST stay in touch with other friends and relatives on a regular basis. [redacted] A third-degree breach.

6.6 Daily Journaling

I MUST log my daily activities at the end of every day by dedicating at least five minutes to writing them down. Exceptional circumstances apply. A fourth-degree breach.

Moreover, I MUST read the last four weeks of journal entries in the last week of each calendar month. A third-degree breach.

6.7 Chores

I MUST dedicate at least one hour per calendar week to cleaning my room and doing the laundry during active term time. However, if I complete all the chores in less time, I am not required to spend the full hour. If, under exceptional circumstances, I cannot do the chores, I MUST postpone them to the first available day of the following week. A third-degree breach.

8 Meta Obligations

8.1 Regular Updates

The CCC MUST receive either a minor update—an update that changes the second digit and resets the third one (e.g., `v4.1.1` to `v4.2`)—or a major update—an update that changes the first digit and resets the rest (e.g., `v4.1.1` to `v5.0`)—at least once per calendar month. If this requirement is not met in a given month, the outstanding number of required updates is carried over to the following month. Exceptional circumstances do NOT apply. A second-degree breach.

Note that the new version MUST be signed and summarised on GitHub by no later than the end of the next day (as defined in Section 3.1) after publication, but in practice it should be signed as soon as possible. A fourth-degree breach for every additional day past the deadline.

8.2 Sections To Address

This section lists problematic sections of the CCC that MUST be addressed no later than the next minor or major update. Failing to address all of them in time constitutes a third-degree breach.

1. Section 3.3 (Operational States) is incomplete in the following respects:

   (a) The three Levels presuppose a deliberate, documented activation. They do not cover the case in which, following an unexpected event, I cease to comply with the CCC altogether without any Operational State having been activated. A Level, or an equivalent mechanism, covering such a lapse MUST be added.

   (b) There is no backstop. A short, explicit list of provisions that MUST NOT be breached under any circumstances, irrespective of Operational State or lapse, MUST be established and MUST remain binding even when all other provisions have been abandoned.

   (c) There is no re-entry protocol. A procedure, scaled to the length of time spent out of compliance, MUST be defined, specifying concrete steps and deadlines for the return to ordinary operation; without one, a lapse may persist indefinitely.

   (d) The requirements at each Level are too vague to be useful. For each Level, the entry criteria, the obligations that remain in force, and the conditions for stepping down MUST be specified concretely.

8.3 Backlog

This section collects ideas for prospective future sections of the CCC. Unlike Section 8.2, the items listed here carry no deadline and impose no obligation to act; they merely serve as a reservoir of candidate additions to be considered, refined, or discarded during future updates.

1. Daily meditation.
2. Daily posture correction exercises.
3. An extensive checklist of daily or weekly duties with an obligation to complete at least N items to meet the quota.
4. A mechanism to make myself frontload tasks with deadlines rather than backload them, and to prioritise necessary work over more pleasant work.

The 200-Hour Challenge

For this challenge, I am REQUIRED to complete 200 "designated hours" over a 14-day period that commences on the day following the date on which this annex is signed. "Designated hours" is an umbrella term that includes any kind of work, as defined in Section 6.3; enriching activities—such as reading and structured intellectual discussions; training sessions (Section 4.1); and other activities of similar nature.

The number of designated hours per day amounts to approximately 14 hours and 20 minutes, with no allowance for weekends. In order to maintain compliance, I am strongly encouraged to strictly adhere to the following schedule:

- 5:30 AM: Morning awakening
- 6:00 AM – 7:10 AM: Training session
- 8:20 AM – 8:30 PM: Office hours
- 9:15 PM – 10:15 PM: Reading
- 10:15 PM – 10:30 PM: Falling asleep

Note that during office hours at least eight hours have to qualify as "focused work"—time actively dedicated to achieving a specific productive goal.

The challenge MAY be terminated in the case of a serious force majeure event, including but not limited to a serious illness or injury that prevents me from attending the office, renders me incapable of performing at least five hours of focused work despite my best efforts, or completely prevents me from undertaking training sessions. However, this does not apply to minor injuries that restrict only certain physical activities—in which case the intensity of training may be reduced accordingly and such restricted activities may be avoided—or to mild illnesses that do not prevent me from attending the office and achieving the required number of focused hours. Any breach of the rules set out above in circumstances other than those expressly permitted constitutes a first-degree breach.

Provisional Modifications

This annex is meant to contain handwritten provisional modifications to the CCC. Each modification (or a clearly indicated block of modifications) must have a signature next to it in order to take effect. Thereafter, the handwritten modification(s) cannot be altered or deleted from the annex and are treated as a constituent part of the CCC, subject to all rules, penalties and other provisions. However, a modification can be deleted or altered if it has reached its expiration date that could have been specified either implicitly or explicitly.

It is encouraged to employ this annex to define short-term obligations that become inactive upon reaching their predefined expiration date. Crucially, these short-term obligations, as well as any other modifications, MUST NOT be used to exploit or circumvent the system. A second-degree breach.

All signed modifications, with the exception of short-term obligations, MUST either be incorporated into the main body of the CCC in the subsequent version or copied over in handwritten form within 24 hours of signing the new document. While the form or specific details of modifications may be adjusted as necessary, their essence MUST remain unchanged. In rare cases, if a modification is found to be significantly flawed or irrelevant (though not originally intended as such), it may be omitted from the subsequent version. A fourth-degree breach.
